

Mould prevention checklist

Twelve everyday habits that help keep moisture, and mould, out of your home.

Showers, cooking, drying clothes and even breathing put moisture into the air every day. Mould grows where that moisture gets trapped. These habits help move it outside, and help us look after your home together.

Every day

- ☐  Run the bathroom fan. Steam from a shower increases condensation and humidity.
- ☐  Use the rangehood when cooking. Put lids on pots to keep the steam down.
- ☐  Air the home for 10 minutes. Open windows each morning when it's drier outside than in.
- ☐  Wipe away condensation. Dry windows, sills and shower screens when they fog up.

Every month

- ☐  Clean the fan grille and rangehood filter. Dusty grilles and greasy filters can't move air.
- ☐  Check for drips. Look under sinks, around the toilet and behind the washing machine.

Every week

- ☐  Dry clothes outside or in a vented dryer. Wet washing on indoor racks fills the air with moisture.
- ☐  Hang towels out flat. Don't leave damp towels, gym gear or washing bundled up.
- ☐  Give furniture breathing room. Keep beds, wardrobes and couches a hand's width off external walls, and wardrobe doors ajar.
- ☐  Keep vents clear. Never block or cover wall, window or floor vents.

Straight away

- ☐  Report leaks and damp early. Tell your property manager in writing about leaks, water stains, damp patches, musty smells or mould. Don't wait for the next inspection.
- ☐  Spotted mould? Photograph it first. Don't bleach, dry-scrub, vacuum or paint over it. Send the photo so the next step is organised properly.

Tell us early. A damp patch reported this week is usually a much smaller job than the same patch left for a season. If something looks, smells or feels damp, let us know.
